PREAMBLE

The Promotion of Access to Information Act No. 2 of 2000, ('the Act') came into operation in November 2001. Section 51 of this Act requires that we as a private body compile a manual giving information to the public regarding the procedure to be followed in requesting information from us for the purpose of exercising or protecting rights.

INTRODUCTION TO THIS PRIVATE BODY

The Business was established on the Chloorkop site by the South African Government in 1942. During the 1950’s it was privatised and in 1967 the then Klipfontein Organic Products (KOP) became a founding member of the Sentrachem Group. KOP was merged with NCP in 1983. In 1997 Sentrachem was acquired by the Dow Chemical Company. The Chloorkop and Walvis Bay operations were bought out by a consortium in 2002 which led to the formation of Chlor-Alkali Holdings (CAH). NCP Chlorchem operated as a division of CAH.

In late 2016, NCP Chlorchem became part of the SynChem Group, whom in the latter part of 2018 rebranded themselves to BUD Chemicals and Minerals.

NCP Chlorchem is a manufacturer and seller of base chemicals and is South Africa’s second largest manufacturer of chlor alkali related products. The company primarily targets markets in the water treatment (potable and effluent), mining, local FMCG, plastics, pulp and paper, general trade and the chemical industries. Major raw materials used in its processes are salt (from Walvis Bay Salt Refiners and Botash) and electricity.

We as a private body have compiled this manual, not only to comply with the provisions of the Act, but also to foster a culture of transparency and accountability in our environment and to ensure that members of the public have effective access to information in our possession which will assist them in the exercise and protection of their rights.

In these pages you will be able to view the categories of information which we possess. You will also be shown the correct procedure to follow should you require access to any of this information.

The scope of the manual includes NCP Chlorchem Proprietary Limited and the following related entities:
- Chlorchem Properties Proprietary Limited;
- NCP CapeChem Proprietary Limited;
- NCP HypoChem Proprietary Limited;
- Watersol SA Proprietary Limited;
- Chlor-Alkali Holdings Management Services Proprietary Limited.

A copy of this manual is available to the public for inspection on the NCP website at www.ncp.co.za or on request from the designated contact person referred to in this Manual.

Copies of the manual are readily available at every office of that particular private body during office hours.

Procedure for requesting access to the above information

If you wish to request access to any of the above categories of information you are required to complete a request form as set out in Annexure “A” hereto. These forms are available from:

- Our Information Officer (whose contact details are in Section A of this manual);
- The SAHRC website (www.sahrc.org.za);
- The Department of Justice and Constitutional Development website (www.doj.gov.za).

There is a prescribed fee (payable in advance) for requesting and accessing information in terms of the Act. Details of these fees are contained in the request form.

You may also be called upon to pay the additional fees prescribed by regulation for searching for and compiling the information which you have requested, including copying charges.

It is important to note that the successful completion and submission of an access request form does not automatically allow the requester access to the requested record. An application for access to a record is subject to certain limitations if the requested record falls within a certain category as specified within part 3 Chapter 4 of the Act.

If it is reasonably suspected that the requester has obtained access to records through the submission of materially false or misleading information, legal proceedings may be instituted against such requester.

The completed Access Request Form together with a copy of the identity document must be submitted via conventional mail or e-mail and must be addressed to the contact person as indicated above.

NCP will within 30 days of receipt of the request decide whether to grant or decline the request and give notice with reason (if required) to that effect.

The 30-day period within which NCP has to decide whether to grant or refuse the request, may be extended for a further period of not more than 30 days, if the request is for a large volume of information, or the request requires a search for information held in another office and the information cannot reasonably be obtained within the original 30-day period. NCP will notify the requester in writing should extension be sought.

Grounds for Refusal of Access to Records

The main grounds for refusal of a request for information are:

- Mandatory protection of the privacy of a third party who is a natural person, which would involve the unreasonable disclosure of personal information of that natural person.

- Mandatory protection of the commercial information of the third party, if the record contains:
  - Trade secrets of that party;
  - Financial, commercial, scientific or technical information which disclosure could likely cause harm to the financial or commercial interest of that party;
• Information disclosed in confidence by the third party to NCP if the disclosure could put the third party to a disadvantage in negotiations or commercial completion.

  o Mandatory protection of confidential information of third parties if it is protected in terms of any agreement;

  o Mandatory protection of the safety of individuals and the protection of property;

  o Mandatory protection of records which could be regarded as privileged in legal proceedings;

  o Mandatory protection of records and information as laid out in the National Key Point Act;

  o Commercial activities of NCP which may include:
    • Trade secrets of NCP;
    • Financial, commercial, scientific and/or technical information which disclosure could likely cause harm to the financial or commercial interests of NCP.
